

Complete Breast Care

Compassionate, advanced care, close to home.

Breast concerns can be frightening whether you've noticed a change, received an abnormal imaging result, or been diagnosed with breast cancer.

From the first finding forward, our physicians provide compassionate, coordinated care, guiding you through evaluation, treatment, and long-term follow-up with clarity and respect.

Advanced technology for a more accurate diagnosis

- In-office breast ultrasound
- Ultrasound-guided and mammogram-guided biopsy techniques
- Minimally invasive biopsy options designed to reduce discomfort and recovery time

Our physicians regularly pursue advanced training to ensure care reflects the latest evidence-based techniques.

Personalized breast cancer care

When cancer is diagnosed, our surgeons create individualized treatment plans using the most advanced surgical approaches, including:

- Breast-conserving lumpectomy
- Sentinel lymph node biopsy to reduce the risk of arm swelling
- Mastectomy, with coordination of reconstructive options when appropriate

Not all breast concerns are cancerous. We also evaluate and treat:

Whenever possible, abdominal surgery is performed using laparoscopic or robotic-assisted techniques, which compared to traditional surgery, may offer:

- Cysts and fibroadenomas
- Nipple discharge
- Fibrocystic changes
- Infections and breast pain

A team approach to lifelong care

Our role doesn't end after diagnosis or surgery. Patients are followed through treatment and beyond with long-term monitoring for recurrence or new breast conditions.
